

 Tim in KY VaE Stage 14 is 171 kilometers from the base of Friday's final climb back north toward, but not quite to, the coast. 07-Sep-2018 13:44:44

 Tim in KY The stage includes five categorized climbs, a Cat 3, a Cat 2, and three Cat 1s. The final Cat 1 has never been used on la Vuelta before. It is, again short and insanely steep. All of the course is either up or down. 07-Sep-2018 13:48:45

bikerabe Valverde knows this is a Big Day

08-Sep-2018
07:01:42

Katie S good guess, Tim. We'll see how lush and dark the tarmac is and how fresh the tifosi paint (what is "fan" in Spanish, anyway?)

08-Sep-2018

08-Sep-2018
07:24:55

Tim in KY Nicolas Roche, Alessandro De Marchi (BMC), Thomas De Gendt (Lotto Soudal), Michael Woods (Education First-Drpac) and Ivan Garcia Cortina (Bahrain-Merida) and Michal Kwiatkowski (Team Sky)

08-Sep-2018
07:25:54

BusterSci That's a real gap.

08-Sep-2018
07:26:51

Tim in KY Seems to be some disagreement about the BMC who isn't Roche. Di Marchi or Bookwalter.

08-Sep-2018
07:27:45

BusterSci Kwiatkowski at 5:02 on GC. He's the danger man.

08-Sep-2018
07:28:58

Tim in KY Bookwalter, it is.

08-Sep-2018
07:35:30

bikerabe think Cofidis don't expect to retain red jersey today?

08-Sep-2018

BusterSci The only thing I've seen from Twitter is Cofidis posting a vid of him at the doc mobile with the caption "Oh oh"

08-Sep-2018
08:08:15

BusterSci In that video he's definitely taking a hit or two off an inhaler that the doc opened fresh. So respiratory issues of some sort.

08-Sep-2018
08:24:16

Tim in KY This climb is a Cat 2 because it's long, but it's not very steep.

08-Sep-2018

08-Sep-2018
08:27:16

Katie S Good morning again ... back from SFO. It's still inky dark out here. .Fortunately no wildlife crossed my two-lane highway over the curvy hill this morning. Always a risk.

08-Sep-2018
08:27:29

08-Sep-2018
08:29:00

BusterSci is that anything like the Michigan-Ohio war? As the old line goes, they were at war over where to put the border. Michigan won, and that's why Ohio got stuck with Toledo.

08-Sep-2018
08:30:22

Katie S Interesting photos on the NY Times front page today. You draw your own conclusions: Alex Jones, Donald Trump, Barack Obama, Elon Musk (and doobie), Tiger Woods. I'm not engaging in political talk; i just think the selection is interesting.

08-Sep-2018
08:31:17

Tim in KY No. That's a really wide river. TN is our concern.

08-Sep-2018
08:31:44

BusterSci I find state rivalries fascinating. We're surrounded by Nodaks, Sodaks, lowegians and Cheeseheads. We don't bother much with the Canucks up north, but there's a need to create a characterization of the "other", even if they just live across a river or an invisible line on the prairie.

08-Sep-2018
08:36:30

 Charles Davis Yep, the northern border of KY historically was the northern edge of the Ohio River. That caused a few problems when the river changed course slightly through the years. Sometime in the late 70s a permanent line was made at what was the historic northern edge of the river. 08-Sep-2018 08:36:30

 Tim in KY De Gendt gets the KOM points. 08-Sep-2018 08:36:41

08-Sep-2018
08:46:21

BusterSci A bit gassy this morning, but I'm not sure I'd call it "exploding."

08-Sep-2018
08:49:09

Charles Davis I am amazed that Katie has a penguin on top of her TV, we keep ours on the couch so he can see the TV.

08-Sep-2018
08:50:19

BusterSci Now you guys have me researching state border disputes.

08-Sep-2018
08:51:28

Charles Davis There is the most western part of KY that you have to drive through TN to reach. It got cut off when the Ohio River did a dip south. I don't think there is much of a rivalry though.

08-Sep-2018
08:53:54

Katie S Rumor has it (from Dad), that we were part of another type of border dispute... the Bear Flag Rebellion here in California, in which "from June to July 1846, a small group of American settlers in California rebelled against the Mexican government and proclaimed California an independent republic"

08-Sep-2018
08:54:01

Tim in KY 92 km, 2:12.

08-Sep-2018
08:56:02

Charles Davis Sky is using strange tactics at the ToB. Yesterday, Kiriyenka was in the break and Poels won in the end. Today Stannard is in the break. Froome and Thomas are on bidon duty and just riding around as far as I can tell.

08-Sep-2018
08:58:06

BusterSci I think in the days of GPS that defining borders by mobile natural features is kinda silly.

08-Sep-2018
09:11:54

BusterSci On the topic of borders, in these parts we tell a lot of Ole and Sven jokes, mocking our Norse heritage. Ole and Sven were best friends for years in La Crescent, MN, down on the Mississippi. When Ole retires, he moves across the river to La Crosse, WI. Sven feels betrayed and asks why Ole moved. "Well," says Ole. "I'll miss you, Sven, but those Minnesota winters were getting to be too much for me."

08-Sep-2018
09:14:54

Katie S cute

08-Sep-2018
09:16:04

Marc @ Toad Hall Ah, Gold finally resurfaces.

08-Sep-2018
09:24:14

BusterSci Oivo works for the highway department. Toivo is out of work, so Oivo tries to get him a job. The foreman tests Toivo, saying "Toivo, see the brush and bucket of white paint? I want you to paint the dashed lines in the middle of the road." Toivo paints 10 dashes and the foreman says "You did that well. They're straight and you did it fast. You're hired." But by the end of the day, Toivo had slowed down and had only painted about a quarter mile of lines, so he got fired. "Why did you slow down?" asks Oivo. "Well," says Toivo. "It was easy at first, but as I went on the bucket just kept getting further away."

09:34:28

Katie S Hey, Dave. How's Oregon?

08-Sep-2018
09:35:06

Dave Ringle I cycled through part of the gorge yesterday, until roads were closed due to fire damage. It was gorgeous.

08-Sep-2018
09:35:58

BusterSci Few people know that, Dave. I just learned about it a few months ago.

08-Sep-2018
09:36:10

Dave Ringle Japan occupied a few islands, the Alaskan Highway was built with no stretches straighter than 400 yards to prevent enemy planes from landing. It was the biggest state growth between the gold rush and the oil pipeline booms.

08-Sep-2018
09:38:32

08-Sep-2018

08-Sep-2018
09:42:10

Dave Ringle I see, now that I'm awake and it's light out (spoiled by Alaska midnight sun all summer) that we have liquid sunshine in Portland this morning. 08-Sep-2018 09:46:49

BusterSci About 20 years ago a major derecho blew down 25 million trees in the BWCA in northern MN. Many of the blow-down areas have burned since, mostly started from lightning. Having traveled and camped in some of those areas, it's astounding how quickly they are recovering. 08-Sep-2018 09:48:17

Tim in KY 54 km. 1:59. 08-Sep-2018 09:52:01

Katie S likely to see some action on the next Cat 1? Or the last one of the day? 08-Sep-2018 09:53:27

Tim in KY About to start the second Cat 1. 08-Sep-2018 09:53:34

Tim in KY Last one. 08-Sep-2018 09:53:50

bikerabe more likely last Cat 1 to finish 08-Sep-2018 09:53:57

Marc @ Toad Hall I'm w/ Tim. 08-Sep-2018 09:54:09

Marc @ Toad Hall Gap > 2 minutes again. 08-Sep-2018 09:54:53

Katie S I wouldn't be surprised to see the break test itself 08-Sep-2018 09:55:29

BusterSci Seems to me the break has to stay together until the next descent. 08-Sep-2018 09:56:56

Tim in KY On to the climb. 08-Sep-2018 09:57:59

Marc @ Toad Hall Pretty impressed by De Gendt in this race. Is he shopping for a new team?

08-Sep-2018
10:01:11

SFinAtx Good morning all. Regarding Nuts meet-ups, Donny and I have been in touch about meeting in Innsbruck. That would be great. Also thought I saw Katie L was going, but keep missing her here (I'm not on FB).

08-Sep-2018
10:01:44

BusterSci That's great SF. I don't think I mentioned it, but due to circumstances out of their control, my Velocast tour got cancelled. Dudes refunded my money, and it's that event that prompted the donation of some of their goodies to our group as prizes.

08-Sep-2018
10:04:03

SFinAtx Oh, that's a shame. I hadn't heard that. I was genuinely envious. I bet they are really disappointed too. They sounded so happy about it all.

08-Sep-2018
10:05:51

BusterSci John is gutted, that's for sure. Their tour guide, who they made a partner in the business, had to pull out. They're searching for a replacement to continue the idea, but they're having trouble finding one that meets their standards and has availability.

08-Sep-2018
10:07:03

Marc @ Toad Hall Who else would sponsor a group like this one?

08-Sep-2018
10:07:21

SFinAtx That was a heck of a package they put together.

08-Sep-2018
10:07:52

Marc @ Toad Hall Lots of talent getting dropped on this climb.

08-Sep-2018
10:09:57

Tim in KY Nibbles on the front.

08-Sep-2018
10:10:40

Marc @ Toad Hall Top ten still pretty close 2/3 through a GT.

08-Sep-2018
10:11:29

Charles Davis 4 man break has 4 min with only 30 km to go at ToB. I have really enjoyed the racing at the ToB over the last three years. Smaller teams and just good racing.

08-Sep-2018
10:12:27

BusterSci Marc, once you drop the itinerant holders of red, it's REALLY close.

08-Sep-2018
10:12:56

Marc @ Toad Hall Don't remember a tour this competitive.

08-Sep-2018
10:13:36

BusterSci Before Yates gave the jersey away, this was the closest GT at 11th stage EVER.

08-Sep-2018
10:14:23

Katie S Silly Yates!

08-Sep-2018
10:14:41

BusterSci Silly? The team has been able to hide all day today. They'll need that energy next week.

08-Sep-2018
10:15:44

Katie S i'm just being silly, silly.

08-Sep-2018
