Tim in KY The first three fifths of the race is flat, but the final 75 kilometers are hilly with three categorized climbs, a Cat 3 followed by two Cat 4s. The final Cat 4 crests 36 km from the finish. It would seem to be another day for a bunch sprint except there is a final climb that crests 15 km from the finish. The climb is 2.6 km long and averages 7.1%, but there is a 15% ramp near the summit where there is not a KOM banner, but the days final sprint point! There is also a short 12% ramp at 5 km to go. So, either reduced sprint for those teams and sprinters that can handle the last climb or a late attack using that climb as a springboard.

05-10-2021
07:57:52 am

Charlie in Tenn The fact that Merlier and Ewan did not try for the sprint points yesterday is a big indication that they will not try to finish the Giro thus not worrying about the sprint points or jersey.

05-10-2021
08:04:08 am

Mikey I hope not. The race will be much less exciting with them mailing it in. Not to mention my fantasy team taking a hit.

05-10-2021
08:10:09 am

Charlie in Tenn Matteo Sobrero was born in Alba which is on the route today. 12 others born within 100 kms of the route.

05-10-2021
08:12:00 am

Charlie in Tenn Most of the sprint stages are in the first half of the race so they will be here that long. Also they may want to win stages (lots of points) and not worry about minor points at intermediate sprints.

05-10-2021
08:14:02 am

Charlie in Tenn To show that I have a life outside of racing, my gutters are clogged up. We had a big storm last week and I knew leaves and stuff were causing a problem. I got the lower gutters cleaned over the weekend but I didn't get the big ladder out and it rained all day yesterday and is raining again. I guess I will wait for a dryer day to finish that project.

05-10-2021

08:29:36 am

Joanna in Virginia With Gracie being so aged, we have held off adding another cat or dog(s). Don't want to disrupt her life too much. The move from NY to VA was very stressful for me as I worried about her so much, she handled it like a pro.

05-10-2021

old.

Mikey What do you think of all the recent developments in horse racing?

05-10-2021
08:39:53 am

Joanna in Virginia I just saw the headlines and shook my head. Why anyone, ANYONE, takes the risk is beyond me. But then, I am not a cheat. This is not Baffert's first infraction, so he knows better. Very disappointing.

05-10-2021
08:41:21 am

Joanna in Virginia As someone who competes horses, I am fanatical about care. You can be suspended and fined for a "whiff" of a controlled substance. There are "passive transfers", and those cases are fully adjudicated. The substance that was tested was allowed, but was way over the limit. Not good.

05-10-2021

Alaska Dave Too many riders in group for bora to burn more matches.

05-10-2021
10:40:42 am

Charlie in Tenn I think it is due to Boro riding hard but not to hard. The punchers and Gc guys could stay at that pace. The sprinters not so much.

05-10-2021
